

September/October Civil Jury Trials

The London courthouse will not be able to call any civil jury trials during the months of September and October 2020. The ability to call civil jury trials during November and December 2020 is currently unknown. The court will advise when a decision is made concerning the November and December civil jury trials.

A formal notice will be distributed in the coming weeks dealing with this topic, its implications, and other matters. However, Justice Grace has asked that this information be distributed to counsel in Middlesex now, and has asked that local counsel share it with out-of-town lawyers and self-represented parties on affected matters.